DAVINCI

ENGINEERED HARDWOOD

One might not normally think of flooring as art, but our Da Vinci hardwood might just change your mind.

The beautiful white washed greys and natural toned planks will appeal to the modernist, the medium and deep browns will appeal to the traditionalist, and the warm natural oaks will appeal to everyone in between.

With wide planks, long lengths, a very thick wear layer, and a strong urethane with aluminum oxide finish even the most doubtful mind will find that all of these sum components equate beautiful art. Truly a hardwood floor that Leonardo himself would have been proud of.

Due to the natural variations of color and grain patterns inherent in wood, our flooring products will vary from plank to plank and may be slightly different than this sample.
